

Lucien Jones, the noted French artist, is one of three commissioned by the French Government to depict war scenes on canvas. He here shows soldiers who have been assigned to duty which means certain death, awaiting the last sacrament in the field. — Associated Press